

Episcopal Consecrations: What Fr. Pagliarani Told the Members of the Society of Saint Pius X Continued

What Does this Charity actually Entail?

If, on the contrary, there is a whole section of the Catholic Church that welcomes and supports the Society's decision, and if the consecrations become a providential opportunity for renewed courage and enthusiasm — both within and outside the Society — we can only rejoice as God Himself can rejoice. Caritas congaudet veritati — “charity rejoiceth in the truth”.

No one could summarize the programme for the four months separating us from the consecrations, and the strength that must characterize our charity, better than Saint Paul: Caritas omnia suffert, omnia credit, omnia sperat, omnia sustinet — “charity beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things”.

This is true — today and in the future: Caritas numquam excidit — “charity never falleth away”.

The Example of the Blessed Virgin Mary

Now more than ever, the Immaculate Heart of Mary must be the refuge of the Society and the model for each one of us. No one had a better sense of souls and a sense of the Church than she. It was out of love for souls and love for the Church that she accepted to offer her own Son on Calvary. Her will was one with that of the Eternal and Sovereign High Priest, at the very moment when He offered Himself to the Father as a victim of expiation. It is this immeasurable charity and sorrow that made Our Lady the Co-redemptrix of the human race and gave her a unique glory in time and eternity.

And yet, despite all that this Immaculate Heart, pierced by a sword of sorrow, may have suffered, never did the slightest bitterness or resentment darken the radiance of her charity, even for an instant, and even towards those who had put her divine Son to death. Just as she did not hesitate, even for a moment, to carry out her sacrifice to the end, so her charity towards sinners never wavered. This is an unfathomable mystery of strength, gentleness and love! ...

May God bless you!
